It Was Not Her Fault that She Assumed It-The Money Taken from Her Hett-Mhe Now Wishes She Had Rept It as Mhe Formerty Did, in Her Stocklags. How did the robbers know it was there? That is what Mrs. Elisia Pompi would like to know street neighbors dozens of times over, Every ody within five blocks of 202 Thompson street. in either direction, has beard of how Mrs. Pompi bold highwaymen, who took $697 from her, and courtesy of setting her on her feet again. They haven't learned yet how her son found two of the robbers, because that came later. Nor are they able to imagine where the robbers got the information as to the whereabouts of that money which Mrs. Pompi had so artfully concealed. Thompson street has always sus-pected her of being wealthy. In its own ingenuous fashion it has waited until she went marketing, and then entered her house and turned up the corners of her carpet and the ticking of her bed, in hopes of finding the money. But this has never succeeded. Now others have solved the problem that Thompson street failed on, and all the district knows where the fortune

Until it reached $500 Mrs. Pompi used to carry her capital in her stocking. Then it got bulky and hurt. Besides it were holes in the stocking. The worthy lady used to lie awake hights and meditate on the horrifying possibility of the roll wearing clean through and dropping in the street. It became a hounding nightmare, which took possession of her with a grip not to be loosened until she found a remedy. Peeling dollar bill from the roll she bought a belt. Then she made some small canvas bags and fastened them to her belt. In these says she put her money. It had grown to be hearly $700, and it made Mrs. Pompt more proud than fine linen, of which she had none, was a secret pride, Not even Mrs. Angelo, who her next door neighbor and intimate friend, knew where she kept her money. No one saw Despite the necessity of keeping her secret, Mrs. compi was quite happy, and on Saturday she was in a very merry mood. She put on her purher, and arrayed in all her gorgeousness she went to the stove and put the finishing touch upon a savory dish of spaghetti. Then some-

As near as Mrs. Pompi can remember the behind her. A hand clutched her throat. She dropped the spoon with which she was testing the spaghetti, and at that moment the house turned upside down. At least it seemed so to her. Her purple skirt fell down over her head, and voice and vision were smothered in the rainbow trimmings. She kicked out and hit something that gave in. She thinks it was somebody's teeth. Also she hopes it was, Strong hands seized her ankles, and there she stood up-

The Italian woman who had been fumbling at her belt now burst into how's of grief. She took off her skirt, sadiy rumpled and solied now, and ahowed her visitor a few dangling canvas bags. They were all that was left of the money bags which had contained the $500.7 in American and Italian money. When Mrs. Meichler learned that, suspicion turned to surprise. She sailed that, suspicion turned to surprise. She sailed that, suspicion turned to surprise. She sailed found out where Mrs. Pompi kept her money, and that she didn't keep it there any more because it was stolen. In consequence Mrs. Meichler became a news centre in Thompson street.

About the only people who didn't hear about it were the police. When Niblo Tonella, who plaims Mrs. Pompi as his mother, and whose hame is popularly supposed to give an indication of his paternity, came home he heard the etory of the lost money bags. He is a bright youth, about 18 years old, and decided to keep an eye out. On Sunday he ran across a crowd of acquaintances that had blossomed out since he last saw them in most gorgeous raiment. When he remarked upon it two of them told him that they had made $700 that week, but wouldn't tell him how. What money Niblo had he speat in buying drinks for those two.

"Meet me to-morrow night," he said on parting from them, "and I'll set 'em up acain. I've got nothing but money myself."

They mat him at 117 Rieccker street and he went out and got a policeman, who arrested them. They are John Lica and Barbler Parquale. When they were arraigned in Jefferson Market Court, where they were held for examination, Mrs. Pompi couldn't identify them for went out and got a policeman, who arrested them. They are John Lica and Barbler Parquale. When they were arraigned in Jefferson Market Court, where they were held for examination, Mrs. Pompi couldn't identify them for the obvious reasons that her skirt, which was twisted around her face, was not transparent. Mrs. Meichler, however, recognized them as two of the men whom she had seen in the hall. None of the money was recovered, and Mrs. Pompi now wishes she had kept it in her stocking. Thompson street says it serves her right for being so close-mouthed about it.

MRS. GRAHAM'S DEATH.

The Result of a Criminal Operation-A Card and a Letter Found.

Coroner's Physician Cuff made an autopsy yesterday morning on the body of Mrs. Frank Graham, who died under suspicious circumstances at her home, 210 West 104th street, on Sunday afternoon. The autopsy showed that death was the result of a criminal operation. Mrs. Graham was taken ill on Nov. 25. Three days later Dr. W. D. Chapin of 148 West 103d street was called in. He found that the patient was suffering from septic peritonitis, and suspected that she had been subjected to an operation. He refused to have anything to do with the case unless Mrs. Graham made a confession in the presence of witnesses. She finally said in the presence of her sister, mother, and Dr. J. D. Johnson of 110 West 104th street that she had been treated by a midwife. She refused, however, to give the latter's name. She had submitted to

After making the confession she grew rapidly After making the confession she grew rapidly vorse. The doctors decided that another operation would be necessary to save her life. The fourth operation was performed on Dec. 4, but Mrs. Graham died fivedays later.

In a sworn statement, made yesterday, Mr. Graham said that he had known that his wife went down town to see a woman doctor, but that she had never told him the reason, and that he had never advised an operation.

Dr. Chapin said yesterday that he had not been called in until it was too late to save Mrs. Graham's life. In explanation of her action she had told him that she had two children, and did not want any more.

When Dr. Cuff went to the house yesterday morning he found in the dead woman's pocket-book a mutilated letter and a card inscribed:

"Doctress Brown, née Schaub, 238 East Fiftythird street."

The letter, portions of which had been cut out, "FRIDAY, Nov. 16, '94.

A Farmer Who Was to Be Evicted Fires His Barn and Shoots Two Neighbors. SOUTH HAVEN, Mich., Dec. 11 .- Robert Webster, a farmer living three miles from here, set fire to his barn about 5 o'clock this morning. Eugene Keasey and another neighbor named Stedman discovered that the barn was on fire, and, after getting out the animals, went to Webster's house to notify him. On pushing open the door Webster fired with a shotgun, the charge striking Keasey full in the face, putting out both eyes and inflicting probably morial injuries. Some of the charge also struck Stedman in the face, but he is not seriously injured.

Webster then set fire to the dwelling, intending to be burned up with the building. Neighbors pulled him out, and he is under arrest. Webster recently lost his facus by foreclosure and had received legal notice to vacate the premises. and, after getting out the animals, went to Web

SAVED PROM PRISON.

Ida Kleinschnitz, a seamstress, 24 years old, was called up for sentence in the Ewen Street Police Court, Williamsburgh, yesterday for stealing a gold brooch from Mrs. Rose Mc-Gill of 265 Humboldt street. She had been permitted by Mrs. McGill to stay in her house until she found employment, and on Saturday night she took Mrs. McGill's brooch and pawned it. Miss Kleinschnitz said she stole it to buy it. Miss Kleinschnitz said she stole it to buy food.

When she was arraigned yesterday Mrs. Ferdinand Magarie, who lives in Greenville, N. J., stepped up to the bar and asked Justice Watson to let her take charge of the prisoner. Mrs. Magarie said that she had a daughter named Ida who died some time ago, and that as Ida Kleinschnitz was nearly as old as her daughter was, and somewhat resembled her, she would like to have her. After a severe lecture the Justice discharged the girl, and she left the court with Mrs. Magarie, who said she would give her a good home.

LATEST LONDON QUOTATIONS. Atchison.

There was a marked falling off in the trans-

tribution of the dealings, owing largely to the fact that the speculation in Sugar Refining returned to nearly normal proportions. The fluc-tuations in that stock were comparatively narrow, covering a range of only 1% W cent., and the net result was an advance of only % of 1 W cent. Superficial appearances were that the Titanic contest in the stock last week was over. but it is by no means certain that that is the case. In every campaign there are pauses, and to-day's narrower market for Sugar Refining may prove to be simply a retreat to skirmish lines in one of the boldest speculative campaigns the Stock Exchange has ever witnessed.

The railway list was in the main strong, on prospects that the House would pass the Patterson bill amending the Inter-State Commerce law, particularly in regard to its provisions prohibiting pooling. Belief that that measure would become a law was especially strong toward the close of business and was responsible for the final rally in prices. The absurd rumors current yesterday of a probable strike of anthracite coal miners were disposed of today, and in consequence Lackawanna and Jersey Central closed materially higher on light transactions. Erie recovered all of the ground it lost yesterday, and upon about the same volume of business. An increase of nearly $2,000,000 in the exports of merchandise for the week was offset by the continued strength of the sterling exchange market. Although rates are now close to the figures at which specie is usually shipped to Europe, a number of foreign bankers state that there is no profit for them in shipping at cur-rent figures. It is generally conceded, however, that some gold is likely to be shipped at the end of the week. Railway gross earnings for the first week in December, reported to-day, are un-usually encouraging, 75 % cent. of the roads reported showing increases. NEW YORK and LONDON, December 18, 1894. TO THE HOLDERS OF OUR RECRIPTS FOR

NEW YORK, LAKE ERIE AND WEST-ERN RAILROAD COMPANY'S

Second Consolidated Mortgage Bonds, Funded Coupon Bonds of 1885, and Income Bonds. Referring to our circulars of January 2, 1894, and April 2, 1894, and that of the N. Y., L. E. and W. R. St. Co. of January 2, 1894, under which we have received about $72,000,000 out of $38,000,000 bonds, we have now to inform you that, owing to well-known condi-tions in commercial and industrial affairs, the earn-ings of the Erie system have been and continue to be ings of the Eris system have been and continue to be inadequate to meet the interest maturing on the proposed issue of new general mortgage bonds.

Neverincless, it seems to us inexpedient to treat this inability of the Company to pay interest as an occasion for present foreclosure without giving a further chance to the Company, especially as payment of bondholders' subscriptions to the new bonds has not yet been called to provide the Company with money necessary to pay its floating debt.

It is therefore now proposed that the new bonds be issued with the coupons June 1, 1894, and December 1, 1894, attached, but stamped as subject to a contract with the Company which shall provide that they shall be paid, as soon as practicable, out of the first nes with the Company which shall provide that they shall be paid, as soon as practicable, out of the first act carrings over and above the Railrond Company's requirements to meet interest and rentals accruing after December 1, 1894, except in case a default on later coupons shall give power to foreclose, in which event the stamped coupons shall retain all their original rights. Before proceeding to carry this adjustment into effect, the concurrence of the holders of our reorganization receipts is required, AND WE HERREY GIVE NOTICE TO ALL HOLDERS OF BUCH RECRIPTS ARD RESIDE US TO CARRY OUT THE ABOVE PLANT AS DESIRE US TO CARRY OUT THE ABOVE PLAN TO PRESENT THEM WITHOUT DELAY AT OUR OF-FICES IN NEW YORK OR LONDON, IN ORDER THAT THEIR APPROVAL MAY BE STAMPED THEREON. THEIR APPROVAL MAY HE STAMPED THEREON. When such approval shall have been given to a satisfactory extent, we shall be in a position where we can proceed with the execution of the plan and with the delivery of the new bonds in place of those deposited, so that thenceforth the Company may be held to strict compilance with the terms of the mortgage, or suffer its penalties. The new bonds for the cash subscriptions will, of course, be deliverable EX all past due coupons, the buyer paying for interest accrued only from December 1, 1894.

If, however, the business of the Company shall continue to indicate that it will be unable to pay the coupon due June 1, 1895, it is understood that the ap-coupon due June 1, 1895, it is understood that the ap-proval of this circular, when stamped upon our re-ceipts, constitutes full and continuing authority to us to take whatever action we may deem best for the interests or enforcement of the bonds against which our receipts are held, instead of delivering the new bonds.

It is proper that we should state plainly that unless this approval be given we shall have no alternative but to abandon the plan of reorganisation, is which avent the bondholders will lose the benefit of the valuable full foreclosure rights provided under the new mortgage, and which, in our opinion, could not be aren obtained.
